

Burren Invertebrate Conference

Save the date: 9-11 August 2022

Michael Cusack Centre
Carran, Co. Clare

This hybrid event, hosted by the National Parks and Wildlife Service, will highlight the wealth of invertebrate biodiversity in the Burren landscape of western Ireland and the importance of on-going land management programmes for invertebrates, as well as providing an opportunity for further learning from best-practice elsewhere.

Details of how to register and a full conference programme will follow and will be provided on the NPWS website <https://www.npws.ie/research-projects/animal-species/invertebrates>
