

[REDACTED]

From: [REDACTED]

Sent:

Wednesday 23 October 2019 20:51

To:

peatinhorticulturereview

Subject:

The use of peat in horticulture

Follow Up Flag:

Follow up

Flag Status:

Completed

Categories: [REDACTED]

To whom it may concern. The science is indisputable, the IPCC has stated we only have 11 years to limit the disastrous effects of climate change. We need to mitigate and keep stored carbon in the ground, by this action you will be releasing carbon we can't afford to add to the already damaged atmosphere. We must keep our peat undisturbed so it can draw down more carbon. Policy has to look at circular systems look at the science and work out alternatives for extraction of any kind. The damage using peat for horticulture is unacceptable. There must be other ways, please find them. [REDACTED]

Sent from my iPhone