

Crows

Ireland has 8 crow species.

Jackdaws, magpies, rooks, hooded crows and ravens are the commonest. Chough and carrion crows are the rarest.

Jays are the most colourful. Most crows are mostly black, but jays are pink and brown.

Crows are very clever birds.

WHAT IS YOUR FAVOURITE CROW?
WHY?

Ravens are our largest crows. They nest on cliffs and mountains.

Hooded crows are easy to recognise. They are grey and black.

The chough is only found on rocky coasts around north, west and south Ireland.
