

Number of species listed in each CITES Appendix

The vast majority of the 34,000 CITES species are listed in Appendix II. Around 85% of all CITES species are Appendix II plants, most of which are orchids.

The most numerous CITES listed animals are invertebrates (mainly corals) followed by birds, reptiles and mammals.

Number of CITES-listed animals

