

Irish Zoo Licence Guidance notes

GN01 | Zoo Licencing useful information

Introduction

- 1.1 The following documents, websites and other sources of information are considered useful ancillary documents that facilitate compliance with the European Communities (Licensing & Inspection of Zoos) Regulations 2003 S.I. No. 440 of 2003.
- 1.2 The contents of this guidance note are not exhaustive nor should they be considered to form part of the Irish Standards of Modern Zoo Practice (the 'Standards'). More these should be considered alternative sources of information complimentary to the Standards, unless directly referred to in the main body of the Standards.
- 1.3 Collections are reminded that they keep current with trends in best practice in zoo management. Sources include current scientific literature; zoo professional bodies; relationships with other zoos; textbooks; websites; training courses and other relevant and appropriate sources of information.
